This level is equipped with underfloor heating by means of a heat pump, double glazing, air conditioning, and mosquito nets. On this level, there is a nice outdoor terrace, partly covered and partly open. Downstairs there is actually another complete house, with a living room, kitchenette, two bedrooms, one bathroom, and a storage room, where the technical installations are also located. . . Here you have a partially covered terrace and of course the beautiful and very spacious pool terrace. The pool can be heated by means of a heat pump. At the pool terrace, there is a cozy chill-out corner, with a pergola. The garden is neatly laid out and very easy to maintain. You can park on the plot, accessible with an electric sliding gate.
