This newly constructed single-family house is located in the San Juan area of Dénia and is designed with your lifestyle in mind. Spread over 156 square meters, the property features a striking double-height living and dining area, flooded with natural light, creating a welcoming space for family gatherings. The heart of this home is the open kitchen, complete with a functional island with sleek and modern fittings. Accommodation includes three well-appointed bedrooms, offering versatility whether you need guest rooms, a home office, or a quiet retreat. The house also boasts three bathrooms, providing ample privacy and convenience for residents and guests alike. Practicality is key in any home, and this property excels with its dedicated laundry room, helping to keep your household smooth and organized. Outdoor living is equally prioritized with inviting terraces—perfect spots for sipping your morning coffee or hosting lively barbecues under the stars. The private pool is the jewel of the outdoor space, promising endless fun and relaxation during the warm Mediterranean summers. Located in a peaceful residential neighborhood, this house offers the dual benefits of tranquility and accessibility. Essential services are just a stroll away and the enchanting beaches of Dénia are also within easy reach. This property is not just a house; it's a potential home waiting to be filled with new stories and experiences. It's perfect for anyone looking for a blend of modern living and the laid-back Mediterranean lifestyle.
